1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Frank Cire on May 11, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

44. (Currently amended) A computer-executable program stored on a computer-readable medium, the computer program having ~~that has~~ a PDL mode, in which a drawing command is converted into a PDL data and the converted PDL data is transmitted to a printer, and an image mode, in which a drawing command is converted into an image data and the converted image data is transmitted to the printer, said program comprising:

a first computing step computing a processing time in the image mode;

a second computing code computing a processing time, including a data processing time and a data transmission time, in the PDL mode; and a selection step selecting the PDL mode when the processing time in the image mode computed in said first computing step is longer than the processing time in the PDL mode computed in said second computing step, and selecting the image mode when the processing time in the image mode computed in said first computing step is not longer than the processing time in the PDL mode computed in said second computing step.

45. (Currently amended) A computer-executable program stored on a computer-readable medium according to claim 44, further comprising a judging step judging whether an improper printing occurs in the PDL mode, wherein if said judging step judges that an improper printing occurs in the PDL mode, said selection step selects an RGB image mode, and if said judging step judges that an improper printing does not occur in the PDL mode, said selection step selects the PDL mode when the processing time in the image mode computed in said first computing step is longer than the processing time in the PDL mode computed in said second computing step, and selects a YMCK image mode when the processing time in the image mode computed in said first computing step is not longer than the processing time in the PDL mode computed in said second computing step.

46. (Currently amended) A computer-executable program stored on a computer-readable medium method according to claim 44, wherein the processing time in the PDL mode includes a subclosing time in the event that a band processing is impossible.

47. (Currently amended) A computer-executable program stored on a computer-readable medium according to claim 44, wherein the processing time in the PDL mode includes a PDL command generation time, a transmission time, a shipping preparation time and a shipping time, and the processing time in the image mode includes a drawing time, a transmission time and a shipping time.

48. (Currently amended) A computer-executable program stored on a computer-readable medium, the computer program having ~~that has~~ a PDL mode, in which a drawing command is converted into a PDL data and the converted PDL data is transmitted to a printer, and an image mode, in which a drawing command is converted into an image data and the converted image data is transmitted to the printer, said program comprising:

a judging step judging whether an improper printing occurs in the PDL mode; and a selection step selecting the image mode when said judging step judges that an improper printing occurs in the PDL mode, and selecting the PDL mode when said judging step judges that an improper printing does not occur in the PDL mode.

Response to Amendment

2. In papers filed on March 21, 2005 applicant filed an RCE after allowance and amended claims 1, 11, 21, 34, 39, 44 and 48. In a subsequent paper on May 12, 2005 applicant submitted a proposed amendment for claims 44-48 indicating the necessary changes to preamble regarding computer programs stored on computer readable medium. Proposed amendment was entered using examiner's amendment. Changes to the claims further refined the limitations.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-9, 11-19, 21-29, 34-48 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2622

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
